WATERWORKS OFFERS LOAN AT PREMIUM OF 7 PERCENT

Utility Company's Move Is Called Bold Stroke

BUYERS SKITTISH

Response Will Not Be Known Until After New Year

BY DAVID ARAKIE
(Financial Editor)

What constitutes a break with the past, as far as gilt-edged debentures in Shanghai are concerned, was made in recent weeks by the Shanghai Waterworks Company, when it put on the market a three lakh issue at a premium of seven taels, and carrying interest at seven percent.

It was quite a bold undertaking on the part of the Waterworks Company, for all previous issues of this organisation had been offered at par, with the exception some months ago of a seven lakh issue at one percent premium and carrying interest at seven percent. It also marks the first occasion for very many years that a Shanghai utility company has had the courage to put on the market debentures at such a high premium. The Shanghai Municipal Council, which has placed before the public debentures carrying interest at rates varying from six to eight percent in recent times, have never exacted the high toll that the Shanghai Waterworks Company have now demanded for the privilege of participating in their issue. At the price of Tls. 107 the return to investors is about 6½ percent. The last lot of Shanghai Municipal [illegible] debentures was negotiated at seven percent, but since then money has grown plentiful in the Shanghai market and seekers after sound investments bought these at higher rates and were content with a return of even six-and-a-half percent or little less.

STUDIED SITUATION

The Waterworks Company apparently studied the situation from the point of Stock Exchange prices and made this loan announcement at the phychological moment. Although they have not been entirely successful—a portion of the issue being still unsubscribed for—the action of the Company will certainly serve to keep interest rates down. Should this eventually turn out correct, the benefits to the mercantile community will be great. Business houses and merchants who require accommodation—and there are extremely few in Shanghai that are not in need of this at the present moment—are obliged to pay to the Banks a higher rate of interest for loans than the Municipal Council or the Waterworks Company offer to the public for their money. The issue of this three lakhs of debentures by the Shanghai Waterworks at seven percent premium and carrying interest at seven percent should serve to make the interest burden lighter on the members of mercantile community.

PREMIUM HIGH

A few are of the opinion that the premium is too high for this time of the year, particularly as we are approaching the Chinese New Year, when money ceases to be easy. Probably, if the loan were floated in March or April, after the Chinese financial stocktaking, the chances would have been greater of a successful floatation. When the Directors of the Waterworks Company decided on the present venture money was cheap in the Shanghai market, but conditions have since changed and it looks as if the period of cheap money has passed away for a little time.

There is nothing unexpected in this, though it is sometimes held the influences acting on the money market in Shanghai are now so far complicated by the political conditions in the country that the money index has by no means the value it possessed in pre-war days. Compared with last month, money in Shanghai is 25 percent dearer, and this dearness will increase with the approach of the Chinese New Year.

The present issue is apprently not as attractive as investors would like to see by reason of the fact business has been done in these debentures on the Stock Exchange at two points below their issue price, but after the Chinese

J. OGDEN ARMOUR, HEAD OF PACKING COMPANY, QUITS

Resigns As President Of Chicago Corporation

Exclusive Dispatch to
THE CHINA PRESS

Chicago, Jan. 4.—J. Ogden Armour, who for the past 27 years has headed the destinies of the Armour Packing company, resigned the presidency today [illegible] son White, who has long been associated with the Armour interests, was chosen as his successor.

The passing of J. Ogden Armour from the control of one of the largest meat packing houses in the world in his sixtieth year creates an epoch in American business history.

The Armour Packing Company was established by the late Philip Armour, Mr. Armour's father, in the sixties, when Chicago was little more than a scattered township. Many interesting stories are related anent Mr. Armour's proclivities for hard work in building up his "slaughter house" to be an enormous meat packing establishment covering many acres and valued at many millions.

Ogden Armour, after spending two years at Yale, returned to Chicago at his father's request to assist in the rapidly growing business. He worked in every department, under an assumed name, in order not to be shown any favoritism, and won his spurs as one of America's leading financiers through the school of experience.

TRAM CO. AND COUNCIL ARE NEAR TERMS ON ADDITIONS

Only Difference Relates To N. Szechuen Road

LONDON BALKS

Company Asks Guarantees Tracks Won't Be Removed

Agreement on all but one point in the proposed agreement on extensions has been reached by the Shanghai Municipal Council and the Shanghai Electric Construction Company, Ltd., owners of the International Settlement tram system, according to further correspondence published in the Municipal Gazette.

The point on which the Council and Tram company still differ concerns the proposed removal of tracks from North Szechuen Road. The Council, in two letters to Mr. R. B. Herbert, Deputy General Manager of the company, reiterates its refusal to guarantee that the tracks will not be removed at some future date, although expressing the view that they will not be, at least for some time to come. In case it is decided to remove the tracks the Council promises to give the Tram company long notice so that they may appear with objections.

The Tram company, however, on advices from its head offices in London, continue to insist that guarantees be given that the tracks will not be ordered removed and insist that new equipment cannot be ordered if the tracks are to be removed. Further correspondence on the point, however, is expected to clear up the question.

Agreement on the other points mooted has been reached in the course of the correspondence, including the removal of tram tracks from North Soochow to Soochow Road and to double the Broadway lines.

The Council's views concerning the installation of automatic safety doors on new trams such as are used in various American cities were also met by the company after the Council reiterated that the present doors on trailers were not up to specifications.

The Council, on its part, has agreed to waive its stipulation in regard to the company paying reinstatement charges on all road widenings.

ORDER HOUSEBOY UNDER BOND IN GOLDENBERG CASE

Servant Of Murdered Theater Man On Security As Witness

An echo of the Goldenberg murder case was heard in the Mixed Court yesterday when [illegible] Inspector Reeves brought [illegible] murdered theater manager's houseboy, one Chu Tuh-sung, before the Court and requested that he be placed under security to appear as a witness if needed.

D. I. Reeves stated that the houseboy while in Mr. Goldenberg's employ was in the habit of sleeping within 15 or 20 feet of his master and was regarded as a highly important witness by the police. They had received information that the boy intended leaving Shanghai and the Inspector asked that he be placed under a substantial security so that some hold might be kept upon him.

Assessor Allman inquired if placing the boy under a month's security was deemed sufficient, to which Inspector Reeves replied that he believed that length of time would do. The Court then ordered the witness placed under $500 shop security and ordered him not to leave Shanghai within the next month.

The protest wired by leading local financial organisations in [illegible] with the [illegible] —the salt and Customs surpluses —for repayment of overdue foreign obligations, as suggested by the Diplomatic Body, brought a reply yesterday from Sir Francis Aglen, Inspector General of Customs, to whom the protest was directed.

The protest was wired last Saturday by the Shanghai General Chamber of Commerce, the Shanghai Bankers' Association and the Shanghai Native Bankers' Association, which bodies declared that the domestic credit of the country would be gravely damaged if the proposal were carried through and urged the Inspector General to protect the country's interests.

The reply to the telegram follows:

London "Daily News" Says Proposal Has Been Made

Exclusive Dispatch to
THE CHINA PRESS

[illegible] From its Rome correspondent that diplomatic negotiations are under way between the British and Italian government regarding a proposal of marriage made by the Prince of Wales to Princess Yolanda of Italy.

Rumors have been current regarding many alliances proposed by British matchmakers and it was thought that "Prince Charming" might even fly in the face of officialdom and choose a "commoner" to be his bride.

During Prince Edward's visit to America the names of several debutantes both in Washington and New York were suggested as possibilities, since the heir to the British throne appeared to show certain ones undivided attention. In fact several rumors became so persistent that one or two newspapers even announced that a royal engagement ring had been given and all that was necessary to tell the news to a waiting world was to obtain King George's consent.

However with the publication of the Daily News' dispatch all London is agog with excitement, expecting either an official announcement or a flat denial by Buckingham Palace. It is an open secret that Italy's beautiful Princess and the Prince of Wales have been friends for many years.

When Prince Edward returned from Egypt in 1916 after receiving a slight wound he stopped off in Italy and was the guest of King Victor Emmanuel at Rome. During his three weeks sojourn Prince Edward and Princess Yolanda were thrown together continuously, and both being fond of outdoor sports, rode, golfed and played tennis frequently.

Princess Yolanda, who celebrated her twenty second birthday on June 1 last, is the Prince's opposite

OBSERVERS AT PARIS MORE HOPEFUL OVER CONFERENCE OUTCOME

Reasons For Believing That A Reparations Formula Acceptable To All Will Be Worked Out In Near Future; Italians Preparing Compromise

BONAR LAW WILLING TO GIVE WAY

British Premier Announces Readiness To Yield On His Suggestion For A German Chairman Of Proposed Finance Control Commission At Berlin

(Reuter's Service)

London, Jan. 4.—In spite of some alarmist reports from Paris forecasting a breakdown of the Conference today and immediate preparations on the part of France to act alone against Germany after January 15, well-informed observers generally are not disposed to take so tragic a view of the situation at present. They express the opinion that there is reason to hope that a common formula will yet be reached though the position is undenia bly serious.

It is suggested from Paris that the Italian Delegation is preparing to present a compromise scheme at today's sitting.

It is worthy of note that Mr. Bonar Law declared his willingness to meet the French objections by waiving his proposal for a German Chairman of the proposed Finance Council, and happily the atmosphere of the conference yesterday was entirely cordial.

The Daily Mail alone among the London newspapers continues to champion the French rather than the British scheme, terming the revised French plan moderate and workable and condemning the British proposals because of the lack of guarantees against continued German evasion. The paper declares pointedly that Mr. Bonar Law promised us tranquility but in little more than six weeks he has imperilled the Entente, played into the hands of the Germans and created general consternation among the Allies.

The morning papers generally fully recognise the importance of preserving the Entente.

The German Government and public press unite in sharply rejecting the French plan, while apparently they are willing to take the British as the basis of negotiation.

Washington, Jan. 4.—Coincidentally with the arrival of Colonel Harvey, the United States Ambassador to Great Britain, and also of Mr. Stanley Baldwin, the British Chancellor of the Exchequer, to discuss the funding of the British debt, Senator Robinson (Democrat) yesterday introduced in the Senate a resolution authorising the President to appoint representatives on the Reparation Commission.

Poincare Objects To Britain's Plan

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, Jan. 3. (10.25 p.m.)—The earlier part of the Conference was devoted to listening to M. Poincare's detailed criticisms of the British plan. In addition to contending that the plan would wash out the Peace Treaty and cripple the Reparation Commission, M. Poincare complained that France, Belgium and Italy could be put in the minority on the foreign Finance Council by the casting vote of the German Finance Minister.

The plan, he said, clashed with the Treaty with regard to payments in kind and did not provide for pledges, enforcing payment at the expiration of the moratorium.

M. Poincare declared that the plan would enable Germany to pay off the reparations debt in 15 years after which she would be the only country in Europe without foreign obligations.

The Premier expressed the opinion that the effective reparations payments under the first series bonds would amount to 20,000,000,000 gold marks of which France would receive 11,000,000,000 gold marks.

With regard to the second series M. Poincare declared that the plan reduced France's share to 35 percent instead of 52 percent and increased Britain's share from 22 percent to 47 percent simultaneously cancelling Belgian priority.

As regards Inter-Allied debts M. Poincare pointed out that, in order to obtain cancellation of the 11,000,000,000 gold marks owing to Britain, France would have to abandon 38,000,000,000 gold marks in bonds under the London schedule of payments, 2,500,000,000 gold marks in respect of the Belgian war-debt and 1,000,000,000 gold marks deposited in the Bank of England, in addition to other sacrifices.

Belgian Delegate Stands With French

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, Jan. 3. 11:25 p.m.—M. Theunis, the Belgian Premier, supported M. Poincare's point of view, and expressed disappointment at the British scheme which he was unable to accept. He regretted that there seemed to be little hope of bringing the schemes into alignment, but expressed the opinion that agreement would be possible on a less ambitious plan

FLAMES BLOCK ESCAPE; TWO CHINESE DEAD

Man And Boy Burned To Death In Cotton Shop Blaze

Two Chinese, a man and a boy, were burned to death yesterday morning at 420 Chungking Road, when they attempted to extinguish a fire in a cotton shop, and were trapped. The bodies were found near a water tap, which was running, and a bucket. There was no exit at the back of the house and flames blocked their escape.

The shop was a mass of flames when the Sinza Division of the fire department arrived but the blaze was attacked from the back and front and it was held to the building where it originated although the adjoining shops were damaged.

The alarm was received at 11:56 a.m.

Annual Meeting Of American Association

The annual meeting of the American Association in China will be held at 5:30 o'clock on January 9, according to an announcement made last night by Mr. George W. Brush, honorary secretary.

At the meeting nominations will be made for the next election, a report will be made on American civilian relief and the questions of new and adequate American Consular buildings and extraterritoriality will be discussed. A full attendance is requested.

ANNOUNCEMENT

A comprehensive review of Shanghai trade during the past year, written by Mr. David Arakie, Financial Editor of THE CHINA PRESS, whose articles have been creating such favorable comment in the Settlement, will be begun in our Sunday issue. The review will carry through several installments of crisp, soundly-based comment and record in connection with the commercial activities of the past twelvemonth and should prove of much value for reference. No business man can afford to miss it.

with regard to the conditions of the moratorium.

Marquis della Torretta, the Italian delegate, reserved his statement until tomorrow.

Mr. Bonar Law expressed willingness that Belgian priority should remain. He declined to agree that the plan violated the Treaty of Versailles and repeated that if Germany failed to carry out the measures drawn up by the Commission of Control, Britain would be prepared to execute the fullest sanctions. Mr. Law denied that the German Minister of Finance would have any say on the subject whether Germany was carrying out her obligations. He said that the French and Italian gold deposits did not exist in the Bank of England because they had been sent to America during the war to pay for munitions.

The British Prime Minister declared that it was useless patching up an unworkable plan which was not going to produce results. He was not saying that he would necessarily reject a temporary practicable arrangement but it was necessary to face reality and realise the broad differences respecting the total amount obtainable and the methods of obtaining it.

Mr. Bonar Law admitted that France had abandoned some of the most objectionable pledges that declared that the French plan made the recovery of Germany impossible. He stated that, finally, the committee of supervision proposed by France would practically take over the responsibility of government, which was a dangerous proposal.

Secondly, the control of the coal industry of the Ruhr, which was the jugular vein of German trade, would prejudice German industry; and,

Thirdly, the demand for large payments in kind during the moratorium was almost as dangerous as demanding cash and would involve further inflation of currency.

Italy Fears Loss Of Priority Rights

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, Jan. 3.—The Temps says that the British reparations program is also unacceptable to Belgium because it cancels the recognised prority of Belgium and is not acceptable to the Italian Government owing to the proposed abandonment of 500,000,000 lire deposited in the Bank of England as security for the advances made by Britain during the war.

It is reported from Rome that the Italian newspapers express astonishment at the proposals made by the British delegation. The Messagero says that the British plan sacrifices Italian and French interests.

The Giornale di Roma declares that the British proposal is absolutely unacceptable, adding that France and Italy will never surrender the gold deposited in England as security for the loans contracted for the common cause.

The latest report of the Conference states that at the afternoon sitting M. Poincare explained that the extent of the modifications contained in the British plan exceeded the competence of his Government and would require the approval of Parliament.

He said that by this plan Germany would be granted a moratorium without guarantees or pledges, and that Germany, having an important internal debt, would find herself, owing to her system of bankruptcy, in a privileged position in relation to the other European countries.

French Opposed To Berlin Commission

(Reuter's Service)

London, Jan. 3. (12.50 p.m.).—The part of the British reparations plan to which the French particularly object is the establishment in Berlin of a foreign Finance Council consisting of British, French, Italian and Belgian representatives in addition to one American and another neutral, and presided over by the German Finance Minister, to supervise currency legislation, budget and fiscal legislation, public expenditure, general treasury administration and financial prohibitions and the control of foreign remittances.

The plan says that association of the German Finance Minister with the Council seems the only method whereby foreign interference can be squared with German democratic machinery and adds that, whatever form of local control may be decided, it should be responsible and independent, namely, not subject to the Reparation Commission sitting at Paris. This Council should sit without the German Finance Minister whenever the occasion requires it to exercise the executive powers at present possessed by the Reparation Commission and the Committee of Guarantees. If the Reparation Commission is retained, at all it should be purely a judicial body.

Moore's Libel Suit Against J. Elmont Heard In U. S. Court

Mr. P. R. Moore's suit for $20,000 libel against J. Elmont, manager of a boarding house at 18 Quinsan Gardens, was heard before Judge Charles S. Lobingier in the United States Court for China yesterday.

Mr. Moore's action was based on an advertisement inserted in the Shanghai Gazette in which Elmont is alleged to have said "Speakin' about the Moore case if that bird did not put the 'Mor' in Mormon he certainly did not put it in Morality." The advertisement appeared while Mr. Moore was being tried on a criminal charge in the U. S. Court.

Mr. P. F. Faison, appearing for Mr. Elmont, asserted that his client intended no wrong and asked if an apology would be accepted by the Court. Judge Lobingier suggested that an amicable agreement might be reached by the plaintiff and defendant, but Mr. Faison declared his client would fight the case to a finish before he would pay court costs as well as apologies.

The case was continued until Tuesday during which time a settlement out of court will be attempted.

Letters from Dr. O. Fischer and Mr. H. D. Rodger were presented in evidence stating that he would make partial monthly payments to satisfy the claim. In rendering his decision Judge Grain stated that he thought that Mlle. Massboeuf had been extremely patient.

Municipal Orchestra Concert

BY PROF. GERALD ZALSMAN

A very small crowd turned out for the thirteenth concert of the Municipal Orchestra's 1922-1923 season, and the first under which the new scale of prices went into effect. Not more than one hundred were present.

The concert, on the whole, was well done, the two Wagner overtures—"Mastersinger" and "Tannhauser" being the best. "Tannhauser" was especially well conducted by Maestro Mario Paci.

Mr. A. Foa played very well and delighted the audience with his solos. The adagio would have been enjoyed more perhaps had it been played just a little slower. Mr. Foa's execution otherwise, however, was all that could be desired.

There was a little difficulty with some of the instruments in Beethhoven's symphony, which slightly marred the performance. Such roughness, however, will probably not occur again under M. Paci's handling.

Foochow Tea Trade Making Big Gains

Mr. E. B. Price, the United States Consul at Foochow, in a recent report wrote:—The 1922-23 tea season at Foochow, China, promises to be the best the port has seen since before the war. Total shipments of tea up to August 11th, 1922, amounted to 2,352,000 lb., as compared with 959,000 lb. in the same period of 1921. Of the amount of tea exported, Europe received 1,551,000 lb. and the United States 72,618 lb. London was the largest purchaser of Foochow tea, but the Netherlands was a close second. Germany has re-entered the market, and is at present the third largest purchaser of Foochow teas, with Australia and France next in rank.

The most popular grades are the Congous and Souchongs, although Scented Orange Pekoe and Flowery Pekoes have been somewhat in demand. Oolongs and Nysana have practically disappeared, and with the dormant state of the Russian market there has been no brick tea shipped whatever. The prices are high, and tea men complain that the Chinese upcountry buyers upset the market by competitive buying.

Portless Fleet May Sail Away Today

The fifteen portless ships with Russian refugees anchored off the Woosung breakwater may weigh anchor and sail away to some other port today, according to reports current yesterday. The report could not be verified from Admiral Stark, commander of the flotila of strange craft.

The 350 orphans, including military cadets from the Vladivostok military schools, who are now housed at 16 Jessfield Road and 4 Sinza Road, will be left behind, according to reports, as Admiral Stark cannot see his way clear to transport them any farther. A committee of local organisations and Russians is expected to be responsible for the orphans.

Where the fleet intends heading for is not definitely known although rumors have been current since the refugees were first denied permission to land at Woosung, that they would sail for Hongkong, Manila or Saigon in hopes of reaching a port of welcome.

DON'T STOP HALF WAY

There are two chief kinds of accounts you can carry at a bank—checking and savings,

The former, also called a current account, is as this name indicates chiefly used to handle your regular income and outgo—your day-to-day working funds.

The latter should constitute your reserve—money to be used only in case of sudden need or to take advantage of an unexpected opportunity. It should represent the margin by which your earnings exceed your expenses and should increase regularly.

Don't stop with half way measures and have only one account—go all the way and carry both kinds.

Premium Debenture Issue Of Waterworks Company Is Break With Precedent

New Year the likelihood is that they will be sought for and their value established at the issue figure. The sudden drop in the rate of interest must have prompted the Waterworks Company to place such a high premium on their debentures.

The Company overlooked certain factors, namely, the changing rates of interest, and the approaching Chinese New Year. The market rates of interest are subject to fluctuation. The Shanghai Municipal Council last year issued at different times debentures to the total value of seven million taels and at varying rates of interest but not a single issue had been offered at more than par.

The last Municipal Council issue carried interest at the rate of seven percent. The eight millions were offered in instalments of a million each, the first one being taken up within a couple of days of the opening of the issue. The million tael debentures offered in June were rather slow in going, and not until a week had elapsed did the subscription close.

BANK AIDS

In this respect the Shanghai Municipal Council were assisted by the existence of the Municipal Investment Bank, depositors in which have the advantage of getting first claim on the issue. The Council in recent years have been wise in floating such loans at varying rates of interest to meet the needs of the market, but at no time, as we have mentioned, did they float any debentures at the high premium that the Shanghai Waterworks Company has done. The Council have at all times been anxious to secure the money and thus make the loan as attractive as possible, but the debatable point is whether they would have been justified in demanding from the investors the premium these debentures now command on the Shanghai Stock Exchange.

It is left to be seen what influence the action of the Shanghai Waterworks Company will have in future issues of the Municipal Council and on the policy of the Finance Department of the Council. It is probably that the tendency will be to take advantage of the natural fluctuations of the money market, possibly mitigating them rather than striking violently at them.

With a smaller yield on debentures the boon to Shanghai trade should be great for it would naturally result in lower rates of interest, and will be re-assuring to business men in this Settlement who are trying their best to do the things which make for the upbuilding of finance and industry. A very small portion of the "frozen loan" has been reduced materially, and there is a considerable amount of past indebtedness which many Shanghai firms have to wipe out and which is loaded with a high rate of interest. Various industrial concerns and mercantile houses that have been "carried" by the bank in the past two years have a large indebtedness to wipe out, and a lower rate of interest will bring some relief.

Although the Municipal Council at their last ratepayers' meeting decided to raise eight million taels, the process of borrowing was not pursued so vigorously as to disturb the normal course of events in the Shanghai money market. Nor when the market showed signs of satiety did the Finance Department of the Municipal Council try to press undue quantities of debentures. The Shanghai Waterworks Company have presumably been working on the basis of return secured by investors in debentures at present ruling rates, which gives on an average some six-and-a-half to seven percent return. The S. M. C. issue of 1922 is being done on the Stock Exchange at 106 to Tls. 106.25, which give roughly 6½ percent to buyers.

NOT HEAVY LOAD

In the event of the Shanghai Municipal Council taking over the Waterworks Company, the debentures will be recognised and redeemed by the Council. The money that the Company is seeking is to provide for new improvements at Yangtszepoo.

The nominal capital of the Shanghai Waterworks Company is a million pounds sterling, with a subscribed capital of £670,600. At the end of 1921 there were unredeemed debentures to the amount of £2,500,000. When the present issue is totally subscribed there will be an added million pounds, making the entire portion of the unredeemed debentures three-and-a-half million pounds sterling. For such a large undertaking this is not considered a very heavy load. The debenture-holders in Shanghai have the first charge on all the properties here of the Company.

IS FOURTH ISSUE

This is the fourth issue launched out by the Shanghai Waterwork Company in recent years. The first one floated in 1921 was for two million taels at par carrying interest at eight percent, the second one in the same year for five lakhs at eight percent, also placed on the market at par, the third for seven lakhs of taels at 101 at seven percent, and this last one at 107 at seven percent. The Company by their action in floating this last issue at 107 has given the Shanghai Municipal Council a precedent, which if the conditions obtaining in the money market after the Ratepayers' meeting in April next prove favorable, will, no doubt, be followed. Probably the Municipal Council might deem it advisable to make the premium a little smaller. So much really depends upon the state of the money market at the time that the flotation is made that it would be idle to express any opinion at the present moment.

China's Position In Silver Market

(Reuter's Service)

London, Dec. 30.—In their annual circular Messrs. Mocatta and Goldsmid anticipate that the effect of the cessation of silver purchases under the Pittman act will be largely discounted some time before it takes place. On the other hand, sales of Continental silver show signs of decreasing, and supplies will therefore be considerably reduced by the time that American production comes into the market, thus two abnormal facts will tend to disappear simultaneously. The report mentions China as a predominant factor of the market during last year, and refers to the larger imports taken direct by China from San Francisco. The report expresses the opinion that the large amount of silver taken by China is all the more remarkable since the European exchanges have seriously restricted trade here.

Rice Crop Good But Prices Soar

(China Press Correspondence)

Sungkiang, Ku.—The country around here is not in a very peaceful condition. There is a good bit of talk about robbers. The merchants and others of the place have established a Winter Guard in order to give local protection. At Hsinchwang, about half way between here and Shanghai, a man was beaten up and killed by some robbers last Friday night. The rice crop about here has been very good, but for some reason the price of rice has gone up. The farmers are hoping it will go up more and are not selling their rice now. The dry weather is causing a good deal of worry.

Friday, 5:50, at S.R.C. Blues vs. Stripes.

BY TOMMY GRAFTON

Carl Neprud's Blues defeated the American School quintet in a slow game last night, the final score standing 46 to 24. The game was played on the Y. M. C. A. floor, and marks the sixth victory of the Blue five this season.

The School showed poor judgment by resorting to an open, long range attack, most of the shots from the neighborhood of center missing the basket by a few inches. The Rowing Club forwards, Coulcher and Goldman, were uncovered a great deal of the time, and made good use of their opportunities, scoring 12 and 7 goals respectively. Neprud was closely guarded by Roy Squires, who played a remarkable offensive game for the S. A. S., holding the crack Blue center to three baskets, and scoring six himself.

The S. A. S. forwards were unable to find the basket, and missed a big number of easy shots, and should have come much closer in the final score. The ball was in the possession of the schoolboys most of the time, but the passing was poor, and frequently intercepted.

TAKE LEAD EARLY

The Blues jumped into an early lead, and a few minutes after the whistle, they were on top, with the score 16 to 2 for several minutes, when the schoolboys took a brace and half-time found them trailing 24 to 10.

The second half was featured by good playing on both teams, Coulcher and the Squires brothers doing most of the scoring.

The game last evening was the first in some time in which not a single foul was called by the referee. There was a good deal of holding and travelling that went unnoticed.

Following is the summary:

Hoppe Again Is Champion Billiard Player; Beats Shaefer In Final Match

WORLD BILLIARD STANDING

	W.	L.	H.R.	Average
Hoppe	5	0	192	55 5-9
Schaefer	3	2	195	55 5-9
Horemans	3	2	244	35 10-14
Conti	3	2	204	41 8-12
Cochran	1	4	140	33 5-15
Hagenlacher	0	5	178	31 6-15

New York, December.—While Hoppe is again the 18-2 balk-line billiard champion. He regained the title last night in the final match of the international 18-2 billiard championship, defeating Jake Schaefer, title holder, 500 to 283.

Hoppe's grand average for the tournament, when he played fifty-four innings for 2,000 points, was 37 2-54. He won last night in the twelfth inning with an unfinished run of 106.

Hoppe came from behind at a critical stage of the contest when Schaefer led him by more than 100 points. At the close he put together massive runs of 188, 111 and 106. Hoppe's winning average was 41 8-12 and his other high runs 111 and 40. Schaefer's average was 23 7-12, with runs of 90, 88 and 45.

On the whole Hoppe was somewhat uncertain of stroke at times, but he made up for this by his remarkable ability to play cushion shots of infinite variety. Hoppe's grand average for the tournament was 37.87, while Schaefer takes second prize by his grand average of 30.94.

Hoppe made it evident that there was still a stiff backbone to his play whatever might be the trouble with his aim. The masterful cluster of 188 attested this on his eleventh turn at the table.

During the tournament Hoppe strained a ligament in his right arm and could not make a masse shot without great pain and deliberation. He never complained of this, however, relying on banking, driving and forced draw and follow shots. On occasions when he was compelled to masse he fiddled his cue for such lengths of time that it upset the spectators.

But Hoppe never faltered in those nerve-racking moments, and while he was forced to abandon the delicate nursing game his mastery at open billiards carried him through. Considering the fact that he played the open game almost exclusively, his runs were remarkable. Immediately after his victory he put to rest reports that he would retire.

"I'll certainly defend the title," he said.

The scores:

Hoppe—0, 111 0, 15, 2, 0, 78, 0, 21, 40, 188, 106 (unfinished). Total, 500 points. Average, 41 8-12. High runs, 188, 111 and 106 (unfinished).

Schaefer—30, 21, 45, 3, 90, 0, 0, 20, 68, 8, 25. Total, 283 points. Average, 23 7-12. High runs, 90, 68 and 45.

Referee—Albert C. Cutler.

Ladies' Golf Club Results

All Shanghai Ladies Golf Club competitions have been overshadowed by the Championship during the past month. Mrs. Tweedie Stodart won by 8 and 7 against Mrs. H. Y. Irwine, the runner-up, with such excellent scores as 89 for the first eighteen holes, and 85 (1 under Bogey) for the second eighteen holes.

The Season Medal (Kiangwan) —Mrs. C. D. Pearson 93—8=85, second Tweedie Stodart 85+2=87

The Club Cup (Shanghai)—Mrs. Percy Fowler 49—7=42

Sprat: (Shanghai)—Miss E. Crombie 20 sprats, second Mrs. Percy Fowler, 16 sprats.

Two Inter-Club Matches have been played during the month with the Hungjao Ladies Golf Club: The first being played at Kiangwan, which resulted in a draw—the second was played at Hungjao and resulted in a win for the Home Team by one quarter point.

FOREIGN QUINT WINS AT SOOCHOW; GRADUATES LEAD

The game between the foreign team and the Reds of Soochow University was marked by less fouling than there has been in any previous game, and showed some fine floor work by both teams.

The final score stood 42 to 32 in favor of the foreign team, but the first half had left the Chinese boys in the lead with four points. Jackson was greatly missed from his team in this game. The Chinese boys played good ball, and at times did some splendid passing down the entire floor. But the superior experience of their opponents, coupled with the fact that the first half ended, to every one's surprise in favor of the younger team, brought out good team qualities in the second half. Percy Yang scored eight baskets, Jacobus nine, and Johnson eight. Other scores were four baskets by Nyoh, three by Yang, one by Chen, two by Geldart and two by White. Harry Liang refereed, and did not find it necessary to call a single foul.

The league standing now is: Graduates have won all three of their games; foreign, two, out of three; Blacks, one out of three; and the Reds, playing a plucky game but lacking in experience, at the bottom.

TAIT TO SIGN DANNY KRAMER FOR MANILABOUTS

(China Press Special)

Los Angeles, Calif., Jan. 3.—Eddie Tait, boxing promoter of Manila, arrived here today to sign Danny Kramer, featherweight, and Georgie Marks, bantamweight, for a number of bouts in the Philippines.

Billy Tingle, Sid Shannon and Silvino Jamito may also invade the Philippines within the next month if the terms offered by the Olympic Stadium are satisfactory to them.

Tingle is now Australia's premier bantam and has lately been going like a house afire. If Tait succeeds in signing up Georgie Marks for a trip this pair ought to make a good match. Aside from these two there is little material in the bantamweight division. It is doubtful if Sarmiento could make the weight, so that leaves no real bantam.

Sid Shannon is a 115 pounder and has a fairly good record.

Movie Producer Returns To States

Among the passengers sailing yesterday on board the President Lincoln for San Francisco was Mr. Harry Grogin formerly connected with the China Film Productions Ltd. here in making Chinese Moving pictures.

Mr. Grogin is returning to the United States in the interests of the motion picture industry in Shanghai and will purchase lamps and other studio equipment for several of the new motion picture studios in the course of construction. He contemplates remaining in the United States about four months before returning to the Orient to continue making motion pictures with Chinese locals. He is enthusiastic over the possibilities of developing the cinema industry in Shanghai, and believes that since the Chinese appreciate pictures made with native actors more than foreign releases the field is unlimited.

Prior to his departure Mr. Grogin was the guest of honor at a dinner diven by Mr. Zeuling Loo, General manager of the China Film Productions, where he was presented with a large silver shield appropriately inscribed.

COUNCIL WILL EMPLOY SINGLE MEN IN FUTURE

But Will Pay Wives' Passages For Married Employees

Unmarried men are to be given preference, all other qualifications being equal, in the engaging of new employees in England, according to information contained in the minutes of the last proceedings of the Council.

The members placed themselves on record as favoring the appointment of single men whenever possible, but in cases where men wanted are married will undertake to pay the passage of the wives to Shanghai with the understanding that such passage money is to be refunded should their appointments not be renewed at the end of their three year terms.

MEN DISSATISFIED

The action was taken upon recommendation of the Comptroller and Treasurer on information that recently appointed employees were dissatisfied with their positions when they were forced to either keep their wives at home or pay their passage out of their meager surplus.

The Council, in the past, has taken a strong stand against the payment of family passages of newly appointed married employes who come out from England to join the Council's service and it has been found that the arrangement by which, if desired, the Council advances the cost of wives' passages with repayment spread over a period of three years, has turned out unsatisfactory as the repayment of such advances generally proves too great a burden and produces a state of discontent which is not in the best interests of the service.

Accordingly, the matter has been referred to the Treasurer and Comptroller whose report is now submitted suggesting that the cost of wives' passages should be provided by the Council for newly engaged employes upon their undertaking to refund the same should their appointment not be renewed at the end of three years, i.e., on the expiry of their first agreement, but that it should be laid down that whenever possible unmarried employes should be engaged.

Weddings

MANSFIELD—GARDNER

Mr. Philip Cecil Mansfield of Messrs. Jardine, Matheson and Company, son of the late Mr. J. Mansfield and Mrs. Mansfield of Shanghai, and Miss Reena Gardner, eldest daughter of Mr. W. Gardner of Glasgow, were married at the Holy Trinity Cathedral yesterday afternoon. Dean C. J. F. Symons performed the ceremony.

The bride, beautifully attired in white charmeuse with overdress of Spanish lace caught at the side with orange blossoms, was given away by her father. Master Richard Fote-Hunt carried the beautiful court train of lace and satin, lined with pink georgette.

The bridesmaids were Misses Dorothy Gardner and Joy Mansfield who wore mauve taffeta trimmed with mauve coire lace and black net picture hats. Miss Margot Gardner was the maid of honor. Mr. A. H. Leslie acted as best man.

Messrs. F. T. Gardner, H. J. Faers and T. R. MacDonald officiated as ushers.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at 91 Bubbling Well Road, which was attended by many friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Mansfield will go to Repulse Bay for a short stay before going on to England.

GLOVER—EDWARDS

At Hongkong on December 22 Mr. Claude W. Glover, of Southampton, England, was married to Miss Winifred Avice Edwards, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Edwards of Shanghai and Kowloon. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. G. R. Lindsay at St. Andrew's Church.

The bride was attended by two bridesmaids, Misses Nettie and Sadie Thorburn, and Mr. Victor B. Glover of Shanghai, brother of the groom, acted as best man.

The honeymoon is being spent in Fanling.

Japanese Tenor Sings At Carlton Saturday Night

The Carlton on Bubbling Well Road announces that beginning Saturday night the world's greatest Japanese tenor, Seijiro Tatsumi, assisted by Mr. Milton Seymour at the piano, will appear for four nights.

Mr. Tatsumi is reputed to be the Japanese John McCormick. On Saturday evening he will sing Buhn's "Invictus," Leoncavallo's "Mattinati" and Meyerbeer's "O Paradis" from the opera L'Africaine. Miss Pototska will also sing in the dining room during dinner and afterwards in the ball room for four nights, beginning Saturday.

Britain Hopeful Of Aiding Germany

(Reuter's Service)

London, January 3 (4.20 p.m.).—British commentators emphasise that the predominant objects of the British plan are to get Germany on her feet commercially and transfer her indebtedness from enemy nations to private investors while the French aims are political rather than economic, demanding pledges to ensure their national security.

Hence the irreconcilable French attitude which Reuter's Paris correspondent says is still conspicuous today, contrasting strongly with the British who are showing every disposition to go to all reasonable lengths to meet the Allies on a compromise, compatible with the fundamental principles of British policy.

On this account British circles still cling to the hope of a satisfactory outcome of the discussions, which only began today as yesterday's proceedings were limited to the presentation of the plans of the respective Allies.

The Belgians and Italians are less hostile than the French to the British plan and there is some hope of Belgium exercising a conciliatory influence as she has done at previous conferences.

Herr Bergmann, the German financial expert, is remaining in Paris for consultation if the Conference desires but no German plan is officially before the Conference.

January 4, 1922

Spot bar silver was unchanged and forward up ⅛d in London yesterday. The New York price advanced to 64⅝ cents and the London-New York cross rate to 465⅛. The only change in our official quotations here today was a rise in the Franc rate to 965.

Our market here at the opening was steady with banks sellers and speculators buyers. Speculators bought a fair amount of Sterling at 3-0⅝ for March delivery and Gold Dollars at 70¾ for the same delivery. However, banks were good sellers at these rates and the market therefore firmed up until in the afternoon when there were sellers at 3s. 1d. for January, 3s. 0⅝d. February and 3s. 0⅛d. March. There were buyers at ⅛d. above these rates.

There were sellers of Gold Dollars at the same time at 71⅜ January, 71½ February and 71¼ for forward delivery, with buyers ¼ point higher. There were sellers of Yen at 68⅛ for January with buyers at 68 and sellers at 68¾ for March with buyers at 68½.

Banks were quoting 3s. 1⅜d. for Sterling bills for delivery this side of China New Year and 3s. 1¼d. for subsequent deliveries.

They were quoting 73¼ and 73 respectively for Gold Dollar bills for the same deliveries. There were no buyers of Franc bills at better than 1015.

China both bought and sold silver in the London market yesterday and India bought. The market is reported as steady.

New York report their market as firm with India a buyer.

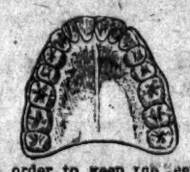
KINGMAN & BROS.
How to Preserve the Teeth



In order to keep the teeth in a good condition scientific precaution must be taken. Through negligence, decay and numerous other affections such as tooth-ache, dental periostitis, esteo-periostitis, necrosis of the jaw, etc., may arise. During the process of ingestion, there are settled on the teeth some deposits of mineral and organic matters, called tartar which possesses a morbid powe of pressing the gum. As an inevitable result of the presence of this tartar, the teeth will become elongated and movable and will, by degrees, absorb away the enamel, leading ultimately to the decay and degeneration of the teeth. The tartar is so hard and resistant to the process of brushing that it cannot be scraped off except with dental instruments specially devised for that purpose.

Dr. KINGMAN offers to the public his service for preservir their teeth at an annual subscription Fee of $10.00 per head to be paid in advance.

The work to be done by Dr KINGMAN to the subscribers consist in:—

(1) Cleaning of the teeth quarterly
(2) Filling with gold platinum alloy only, when the teeth present holes.
(3) Inspecting the teeth at any time at the desire of the subscribers.

SHANGHAI, JANUARY 5, 1923

WEATHER

Fresh or strong winter monsoon to the South of Shantung. South to west breezes further North. Fine weather and still severe cold.

China In 1922

DESPITE the gains made at the Washington Conference early in the year China's ship of state was tossed about in a stormy sea during the year 1922. We had one president de jure, two de facto presidents, one expectant president and nine Cabinets. The beginning of the year saw the presidential struggle between Hsu Shih-chang in the North and Dr. Sun Yat-sen but one was considered illegal on account of his Anfu origin and the other, constitutional. Mid-year witnessed the strife between Hsu and Li Yuan-hung who was considered the only legitimate president. The year terminated with the agitation for the election of General Tsao Kun to be the next president.

The cabinets continued to be tools of the military parties. In the early part of the year, it was a question of competition between the Fengtien and Chihli war lords, while later, the cabinets became the bones of contention between the Supertuchuns in Paotingfu and Loyang. The eight premiers were Liang Shih-yi, W. W. Yen (twice), Chow Tse-chi, Tang Shao-yi (who did not function), Wang Chung-hui, Wang Tah-hsieh, C. T. Wang and Chang Shao-tseng.

The clash between the armies of Fengtien and Chihli in May was the most sanguinary yet seen in the history of China's internal strife. The result was merely the transfer of the political power in Peking from Chang Tso-lin to the Chihli militarists. No sooner had the victors obtained power than they began to quarrel. The rivalry between Paotingfu and Loyang is more keenly felt every day and the "Supreme Question" undoubtedly will cause the next clash. The influence of Chang Tso-lin in the Manchurian provinces is still great and an early "come-back" may be predicted. Thus a third element in the purely northern situation.

In the South, Chen Chiung-ming rose to power by betraying his former master and benefactor, Dr. Sun Yat-sen, and the Punitive Army was handicapped through lack of funds. Tuchun Li Hou-chi's surrender to the Chihli party brought only gloom for him, and the end of the year saw Fukien Province split into a dozen factions, prominent among which were the Kuomingtang and Anfu Club. Kwangsi became the center of bandits and stragglers, trying to cut one another's throats. War clouds were hanging low in Szechuen at the end of the year, with Yang Sien trying to re-establish his influence.

Hunan is perhaps the only province which has shown progress in provincial government. The civil governor for the first time in China was elected by popular vote and the new government was established towards the end of the year, paving the way for genuine self-government. Chekiang, Anhui, Honan and Kiangsi abolished their tuchunates during the year, but Anhui was the only province that attempted army disbandment, which was done on a very small scale.

Books And So Forth

BY F. F. VAN DE WATER.

NOVEMBER

Within the darkened room her women cried;
But she was Jezebel. She took the flame
Of Tyrian silk, less scarlet than her fame—
King Ahab's widow, regal in her pride—
And girt it on with gems. The window wide
She flung and mocked at Jehu as he came
And writhed her painted lips about his name,
And, jeering, fell beneath his car and died.

So stood October, clothed in majesty;
Upon her brow the woodbine's crown of fire;
An arrogant yet haggard woman, she,
Who waited death in red and gold attire,
And fell, and perished, who had dared the ire
Of him who from the north drives furiously.

There is one great comfort in editing almost anything. When you submit yourself a piece of your own verse you are morally certain that it won't come back with the explanation that it's not an entirely terrible sonnet, but the truth of the matter is that the editors are so well stocked up with better that, with regret, and so forth.

Up to page 678 we still find Mr. Galsworthy's "The Forsyte Saga" a great book. We'd make our enthusiasm more definite and concrete if the volume weren't so long. The chief trouble with an eight hundred-odd page novel is that by the time you've finished it you're not quite sure how it began, and when you've reread the first two or three hundred pages to refresh your memory, then you're a little foggy as to how it ended.

There is always a certain dignity and glamor to Galsworthy's people. They are not quite flesh and blood, or rather they are exalted flesh and blood. They have a richness and certain aristocracy to them that do not quite belong to this world, or at least to our particular district of the Western Hemisphere.

"The Forayte Saga" reminds us not a little of the Abbey—we think it is Abbey—Arthurian paintings. Sinclair Lewis's "Babbitt," on the other hand, is a motion picture—not a motion picture drama, but an impartial, uncensored, clear-cut representation of life, of what we know of life.

And basing our verdict not upon art, but merely upon the tempo of our pulsebeats while reading them both, we still trail along with Mr. Lewis, chanting our conviction that "Babbitt" is the best book we have read since we began to do this work, or for a long while before that.

Speaking of motion pictures, we're starting to doubt whether they are still in their infancy or rather, whether there is any hope whatever that they'll emerge from it. We are beginning to suspect that some one must have dropped the infant on its head a few years back and arrested its mentality permanently.

We don't think the movies have advanced a perceptible step in all the years that have intervened since the production of "The Birth of a Nation." We doubt if we were to swear off going to them for ten years to come and then were to re-enter a film theater, if there are any left by then, whether we'd discover any change except in the costumes of the actors.

Of course, the trouble may be that motion pictures have caught up with the artistic taste of humanity. That taste has been developing slowly for a number of centuries. Only a few years ago the art of film story telling was born. At first it was just a speck of protoplasm among infinitely older and more advanced matters. It hurried to catch up.

This hate made the development of the art enormously swift and dramatic. Pictures kept getting better and better, and as they more closely approximated public taste enthusiasm for them grew higher and higher.

And then, all at once, the moving pictures caught up with the head of this slow-moving glacier they call civilisation. Once there there was nowhere else to go. You either had to run on ahead of the glacier into the distance or else you had to sit down upon its edge and swing your feet.

The impetus of a few leaders in the art or business or whatever you choose to call it inspired them to venture beyond the glacier front. They produced pictures like "Broken Blossoms" and some others that were in advance of public appreciation. They lost money and went back to making the old style picture that insured box office returns. They didn't want to be pioneers. They would rather be millionaires.

So they all returned and sat on the glacier, and took to swinging their feet again and riding with it, a few inches a year. There they found to their dismay that the other passengers were losing their enthusiasm. They had been stimulated by the rapid advance of the film industry toward perfection. Now, when that advance was checked, they began to ask:

"What's the matter with the movies?"

And nobody answered them. For the motion picture directors and producers were business men first and artists afterward. They looked embarrassed and muttered things to themselves. What they should have replied was:

"What's the matter with you, yourselves, you poor fish?"

Is There A Word To Be Said For Jealousy?

BY BEATRICE FAIRFAX

"I contend that there can be no love without jealousy. The lukewarm affection that permits the beloved to flirt and gallivant and to have its own way, isn't love at all. I know whereof I speak for I love a girl devotedly, but when I see her interested in other men I see red," writes J. B. C.

"Do you believe a woman can love a man truly and deeply without having a lot of jealousy mixed in with her feelings?" asks Grace D. "I don't. But my husband says that if I really cared for him, I'd want him to enjoy himself and not resent his taking a little interest in other women. But I say either I'm enough for him—or he doesn't care for me. Don't you think I'm right in demanding all his thoughts or else feeling that I have nothing worth counting on from him?"

I think you are wrong. I think all jealous folks are sadly, miserably, tragically wrong. Jealousy is the most selfish of the vices. Jealousy is the most tyrannous and unfair of the qualities. It grows out of suspicion and unfaith. It flourishes in meanness and selfishness. And in the end it destroys love and happiness.

"Love is in fullness or naught." Love is either generous and noble—or it is not love.

Real love wants to give—not merely take. And the love which insists that it should be enough for its beloved, is ignoring the fact, that any individual may have needs and longings which no one person can fully gratify.

A jealous man or woman says: "I care for you. That should be enough for you. What I have to give you should be enough for you. I am the best judge of what you need to make you happy. I cannot bear to see you finding joy or inspiration save through me. How can you hurt me by taking any pleasure in things I do not share?

All this sounds absurd, does it not? And yet how else can the methods and demands of a jealous person be interpreted?

No matter how deeply two persons love each other, they remain separate individuals. If one eats, the other is not relieved of the pangs of hunger. If one sleeps, the other is not rested. The clothes one wears do not keep the other warm.

Nor can the psychic food one receives nourish the other.

The generous love which allows freedom has nothing to fear unless it has made the blunder of mating with a weakling. No man can help respecting the wife whose tolerance permits him to seek the stimulations he requires. He comes home happy in the joy of confiding his experiences. No woman can help believing in the strength and honest assurance of a love which does not think it must chain her to be sure of her.

Jealousy destroys all beauty and peace and faith. It makes for deceit. And the love which thinks it proves itself through jealousy is nothing but a self centered, tyrannous, conceited and even brutal feeling based on passion and the need of devotion and admiration. But of the warmth and generosity and understanding of love, it knows nothing.

Sky . Wonders

BY GARRETT P. SERVISS
(Eminent Astronomer and Authority on Subjects of Scientific Interest)

The following letter from Mr. J. E. Savage, of New York, furnishes, I think, a good example of the general indifference of people to phenomena in the heavens, and, at the same time, is an interesting indication of the need of a critical attitude of the mind toward any extraordinary appearance noticed in the clouds or the sky, if its real nature and significance are to be understood.

"On Saturday evening (August 19), at sunset, I witnessed a remarkable spectacle in the sky. In the east was able and vermillion clouds, topped by heavier purples and blues, were of a hue and texture of surpassing beauty, duplicated again in the west, where a remarkable contrast was offered the sunset reds by an emerald green band directly above the horizon.

"Through these beautiful colors cutting a swath through even the heavy clouds, ran a tremendous path entirely across the sky, marking, apparently, the transit of the sun across the heavens. It was dark blue in color, and wonderfully well defined, and could under no circumstances be mistaken for a cloud formation.

"In about two hours it faded, and night-time closed in on the most awe-inspiring spectacle I have ever beheld. Was that blue band, apparently carved out by the sun, the mysterious zodiacal light? I believe I was the only among hundreds on the beach at that time who noticed anything unusual in the sky."

The zodiacal light has no resemblance to the phenomenon described, and could have no connection with it. The light is seen only after the twilight begins to deepen; it glows with a very soft radiance, is of a faint silvery, or sometimes slightly golden, tint, and has the form of a long narrow wedge, point upward, with base covering the part of the horizon where the sun set.

The source of this light, whatever it may be, lies far beyond the atmosphere of the earth. The light is probably due to reflected sunshine coming from a disk of meteoric or nebulous matter of slight density surrounding the sun and extending many millions of miles away from it.

The dark blue "swath cutting through even the heavy clouds," and making "a tremendous path entirely across the sky," had little to do with the transit of the sun across the heavens. Its dark hue and its appearance of making a path through the colored clouds, indicate that it was a shadow cast by some dense cloud interposed in the way of the sunlight, and falling upon the clouds that it seemed to pass through.

It was analogous, evidently, to the shafts of light and interposed lanes of shade seen in a display of "the sun drawing water."

The hundreds described as paying no attention to so remarkable a spectacle were evidently of the sort who "having eyes to see, see not," i. e., they see nothing whose appeal is addressed solely to the sense of beauty or of awe, regardless of application to ordinary human affairs. There is probably less than one person among a hundred aware of the fact that the spectacle of sunset is not comprised entirely in the display of colors in the west, but that a connected series of changes of light, color and shadow occur in the eastern heavens.

The rise of the twilight arch, due to the advancing shadow of the great globe of the earth spreading up from the eastern horizon as the rotating planet rolls what was, a few hours before, its daylight side away from the sun is, when thoughtfully regarded, one of the most impressive of all the sights of nature.

As the sun sinks, the dusky arch rises higher in the heavens until finally it passes overhead, and then night spreads its tent over us. But men, for the most part, are like sleepy children when these great preparations are going on in the heavens—they look without seeing.

The atmosphere of the earth is like a great crystal jewel upon and through which the sunlight plays as the rotation of the earth keeps it continually turning in the flood of radiance that the sun sends out in all directions. It has the most precious property that gems possess, that of refracting the light rays and dispersing their component colors.

With the aid of its clouds, its variations of humidity and density, its perpetually changing conditions and its continually shifting currents, it is able at times to display chromatic pageants of matchless beauty that lose none of their charm through the gigantic scale on which they are formed.

These things may or may not have been done especially for the sake of man; but man would be a foolish creature if he did not rejoice in them and consider their enjoyment an important part of his existence.

But the full value of Nature's spectacles, and especially their intellectual influence, can only be availed of by learning as much as possible of their laws and their inter-relations. It is not true that science destroys the poetry of Nature; on the contrary it enhances it.

British Women's Association

The following cablegram has been received from Mrs. Sidney Barton, honorary president of the B. W. A. from Eastbourne and needless to say that this very gracious act of remembrance will be much appreciated: "My best wishes for very happy new year to all members of the Association."

NEW MEMBERS

The following new members have joined the Association since our last announcement: Mrs. C. W. Boswick, Miss S. F. L. Crane, Mrs. T. F. Earle, Miss G. K. Harris, Miss Eileen Millard, Mrs. Robert B. Roach, Mrs. T. B. Ross, Mrs. H. N. Steptoe, Mrs. C. W. Smith, Mrs. J. H. Wallace and Miss G. Warren. Members are reminded that the end of the Association's financial year is in sight and that there are no less than 200 members who are enjoying all the privileges of membership on unpaid subscriptions. The amount of the subscription to the B.W.A. ($3 per annum) is cut down to a minimum in order to give every British woman in the Far East an opportunity of joining, but in order to carry on it is obviously necessary that these should be forthcoming. Is not this the season for making "good resolutions?"

BISHOP MOLONY SPEAKS

The first fixture of the New Year will be an address from Bishop Molony on Monday afternoon next at headquarters at 5 p.m. The subject of the discourse will be connected with the work being carried on under British auspices in Chekiang, the higher educational institutions, the medical work and, not least important, the part that is being played by the British in famine relief work. There is every reason, alas! to believe that this last will perforce be very much before the public during the next few months, for the distress in that part of the province affected by flood is terrible. It is hoped that there will be a full meeting of members to welcome the Bishop.

TEA DANCE

The Entertainment Committee make a preliminary announcement of a Tea Dansant to take place on Wednesday, January 31 at the New Carlton from 5 to 7:30 p.m. Tickets will be $2 to include tea and may be obtained at Headquarters or from members of the Entertainment Committee. Further particulars will shortly be published.

LITERARY SECTION

On January 9 (Tuesday) Miss Phyllis Ayrton will read a paper on "Psychology" before the Literary Section. This will take place at Headquarters at 5:30 p.m. It is so rarely that there is any chance of listening to a discourse on subjects of this description from anyone so well qualified to instruct as Miss Ayrton, that this meeting should prove especially attractive to members, who, by the way are permitted to introduce guests on payment of fifty cents. A discussion will follow the paper.

HOSPITALS' AID DEPT.

The next meeting of the Hospitals' Aid Department of the Social Service Board is fixed for Tuesday, January 9 (open all day) when it is hoped that new members will enrol in order to carry on this useful work.

ART SECTION

The Art Section, commendably alert in the making of hay when the sun shines, has arranged a most interesting and attractive fixture for Thursday, January 18, at 5:30 p.m. when the members will listen to an address from Miss Tharle-Hughes on "Art as it appears to a modern artist."

Miss Tharle-Hughes has been travelling in the East in order to gather materials for an exhibition of pictures in London on her return and has very kindly promised to give B.W.A. members and their guests (members of the Art Section of the American Woman's Club) the great privilege to seeing her sketches and studies. The artist wishes it to be understood that these will be merely suggestions and ideas, but anyone who paints will readily realize that, educationally speaking, these are of infinitely more value even than the finished work; the story as to how the artist arrives at his results being told. Perhaps in no other respect are foreigners here so entirely cut off from home as in the matter of art and to be put in touch, as far as is possible in a single lecture, with the modern trend in art by so able an exponent as Miss Tharle-Hughes, who by the way is also representing the Faculty of Arts in London, is indeed an opportunity not to be missed by those interested.

NEEDLEWORK

The Needlework Section reports that the total takings of their Sale and Christmas Tree last month amounted to $1,715, with net profits of $1,356. Among their donations resulting are $100 (general purposes) to the Social Service Board, $50 each to the Hospitals' Aid Dept. and to Headquarters (upkeep) and $100 to the Foreign Women's Home.

If you only realized the wonderful health-giving properties of Sanatogen—the splendid feeling of vigour and freshness which it gives—you would not hesitate to begin taking it at once.

Journal Shows Optimism Over Trade Outlook

(Reuter's Service)

London, Jan. 3.—An optimistic view of trade prospects for 1923 is taken by the Bulletin, the organ of the Federation of British Industries.

Dealing with cotton the paper says that, although trade conditions are at present wretched, a rather more hopeful feeling prevails at Manchester. It is believed that demand will broaden soon but the present level of prices handicaps Lancashire firms as there is little probability of the Natives of Eastern countries being able to consume large quantities of goods at current rates.

With regard to silk, the Bulletin says that unquestionably the making-up trade has improved but the dress goods business is slacker than ever and there is very little sign of an early improvement.

CHARGED AS ROBBERS

As a result of information gleaned following the arrest of a Chinese bearing a bundle of stolen clothing along the street last week seven men were brought into the Mixed Court yesterday and charged as members of an armed robber gang which held up a house off Kwenming Road on November 25 and got away with $500 in money and jewelry. Detective Inspector Quayle stated that the gang is believed to have been responsible for many recent robberies in Chinese territory and are wanted by the Chinese authorities. The case was remanded one week.

Bank Clearings Show Two Billion Gain In Britain

(Reuter's Service)

London, Jan. 1.—The annual statement issued by the Bankers' Clearing House shows that total clearings for 1922 amounted approximately to £37,161,000,000 an increase of £2,230,000,000 compared with 1921, but a decrease of £1,857,000,000 compared with the record year of 1920.

New issues were on a somewhat larger scale than during 1921.

The increase in real trade cannot be regarded as a factor, as any such increase has been fully offset by lower wholesale prices.

COTTON STATES PLAN BOARD TO URGE NEW LAWS

Growers To Have Permanent Government Commission

(Reuter's Service)

Memphis, Tenn., Dec. 4.—Plans for the organisation of a permanent governmental cotton commission, with representatives from every cotton-producing state, for the purpose of recommending legislation by the states, which will aid in solving problems now confronting the industry, were proposed here today at the second annual meeting of the Cotton Commission, composed of delegates named by the Governors of twelve Southern States.

Under the plan suggested by Mr. A. W. McLean of North Carolina, which will be acted upon by the conference before adjournment on Wednesday a uniform act may be formulated for presentation to the Legislatures of cotton producing States, which will provide for a permanent commission, the members of which will be named by the Governor or Legislature of each State.

The necessity of uniform state legislation which would enable the cotton producing sections of the country to work together in controlling and eradicating insect pests and the adoption of better methods of marketing and warehousing the staple, was strongly urged, not only by Government and State experts, but by a number of other speakers.

In his address, Mr. McLean said that the most pressing the urgent question now facing the cotton industry in the south was the control and eradication of insect pests.

Mr. McLean advocated a campaign of publicity and education in order that the best methods of solving the insect pest problem may be carried directly to the door of every planter in the south.

Close co-operation of the states with the United States Department of Agriculture in crop pest control and eradication was urged by the speakers.

Mr. Henry C. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, will deliver the principal address tomorrow outlining the work which the department has done and is prepared to do for the cotton growers

Americans Urged To Seek Markets In The Far East

(Reuter's Service)

Cleveland, Ohio, Dec. 5.—American manufacturers were advised to turn their attention toward the Far East as the most likely market for their products in addresses by Chiefs of the United States Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce at the one day conference of foreign trade experts and manufacturers and industrial managers of northern Ohio here today.

The unifying theme of the addresses by Dr. Julius Klein, director of the bureau, and the chiefs was the service the bureau offers to American exporters in building up a foreign trade business.

"The Far East has recovered very largely from the exchange troubles that developed during the war," Mr. Walter H. Rastall, chief of the Industrial Machinery Division, said. "Conditions in the Orient are much nearer to what might be called normal than are those in Europe."

Mr. F. R. Eldredge, of the Far Eastern Division, advised taking advantage of the new China trade act which exempts American trading companies in China from American income taxation.

"China is still in its infancy commercially," he said. "We have built up there a tremendous store of good will which will be of great advantage to our business men."
